Gives Figures On Migration Of Textiles

Reasons for the migration of the textile industry to the south were discussed by Ulysses J. Lupien, industrial relations consultant, at a meeting of the Andover Service club at the Andover Inn last Thursday night.

Former industrial relations manager of the Pacific Mills and past director of the state civil service, Mr. Lupien, a resident of Chelmsford, made his first study of textile migration for the silk industry and this led him to a survey of the cotton and woolen

25-YEAR-OLD TAG BRINGS LOST KEYS BACK TO ANDOVER

A metal tag passed out about 25 years ago by C. S. Buchan to patrons of the furniture store he once had at 12 Main st., was attached to keys found recently in Moncton, N.B. Gene Le-Blanc of Moncton found them and after advertising there without result forwarded them to the address on the tag. The store went out of business in 1935 so postal authorities turned them over to Fire Chief C. Edward Buchan, son of the late store owner. Records of the tag owners are gone, and now the keys are at The Townsman office awaiting the owner.

Abbot Adds New Stunt To Bazaar

A new feature will be added this year to the Abbot Birthday bazaar which will be held Saturday afternoon, rain or shine. It is a human animal circus, all sorts of animals animated by tap dancing girls, giving the same results as a very much magnified animal cartoon.

Many choice articles have been contributed for sale and some very desirable articles have been collected for auction. Girls in the captivating costumes of the 1820's will serve in the tea room. The gardenia sale and flower booth are in charge of Miss Barbara Humes assisted by Mrs. Arthur Quintal and Miss Jane Sullivan. The parade of gardenia girls will continue throughout the afternoon.

Funds raised by the bazaar are school philanthropies. The gates will open at 2 p.m. All are invited.

Nursing School To Graduate 26

Building Construction Takes Record Spurt

Observation Corps To Be Reorganized

Albert Cole Jr., deputy fire chief was appointed by the selectmen Monday night as local coordinator of the air ground observation corps. The appointment was made at the request of the state adjutant general's office.

It will be the duty of the coordinator to reorganize the airplane observation post which was manned during the past war under the supervision of the American Legion. Men and women comprised the volunteer workers at the post on 24-hour service.

Several complaints regarding street lighting were received and discussed after which it was voted to refer them to the board of public works.

At the suggestion of the Lawrence Tuberculosis and Health association the town ambulance was made available for emergencies at the Happy Health camp.

Engage School Building Expert

The Andover elementary school building committee at its last meeting voted to retain Dr. Homer W. Anderson as educational consultant.

Dr. Anderson, formerly superintendent of schools of Newton, has had outstanding experience in the construction of new school buildings. He is presently engaged as a consultant in several other projects as well as being a professor of education in the Harvard university School of Education. He was president of the American Association of School Administrators, and formerly superintendent of schools in Denver, Col.

The committee is holding formal meetings weekly at Punchard high school. They have interviewed many architects and Saturdays they have spent visiting elementary schools far and wide in their efforts to choose one for Andover.

NEW POLICE CRUISERS

The two new police cruisers for which $2266 was appropriated at the last town meeting have arrived and are now in operation.

Building construction in Andover has taken a decided spurt this spring, being far ahead of the corresponding periods of the past two years.

The value of building permits issued to date this year is $436,150 according to the records of Building Inspector Ralph W. Coleman. A year ago at this time the value of such permits was $209,250 and in 1948 it was $318,950.

Another way of viewing the building boom here this year is to state that 35 new homes have been started this year to date and more are contemplated.

The record of building permits issued for the past month shows that the valuation of new construction is $234,500, of which $223,650 is for residences and garages, $10,850 for additions and alterations.

The April permits were issued as follows:

Miss McCarthy's request for leave was approved at Tuesday night's regular meeting of the committee. She has been selected by the department of the army to teach in one of its schools operated for children of American soldiers.

Last week the committee granted a year's leave of absence to Miss Louise Sherman, kindergarten teacher, for the same purpose.

The committee also voted to call for bids for a curtain for the Memorial auditorium. Bids are also being received for repairs on the power house chimney and for the year's fuel supply.

The committee later went into executive session and interviewed two candidates for the position of headmaster of Punchard.

Granted Leave To Teach For Year In Japan

Miss Florence H. McCarthy, teacher in the Shawsheen school, has been granted a year's leave of absence by the school committee to teach for a year in Japan. Miss McCarthy's request for leave was approved at Tuesday night's regular meeting of the committee. She has been selected by the department of the army to teach in one of its schools operated for children of American soldiers.

Last week the committee granted a year's leave of absence to Miss Louise Sherman, kindergarten teacher, for the same purpose.

The committee also voted to call for bids for a curtain for the Memorial auditorium. Bids are also being received for repairs on the power house chimney and for the year's fuel supply.

The committee later went into executive session and interviewed two candidates for the position of headmaster of Punchard.

What Our Readers Say—

CAN SOME READER HELP
Keuka College
Keuka Park, N. Y.
Apr. 28, 1950

Editor of the Townsman:

I am a collector of unusual epitaphs and would like very much to verify one which comes from Andover. It marks the grave of John Abbot and dates to about 1793. It reads:

Grass, smoke, a flower, a vapour shade, a span,

Serve to illustrate the frail life of man;

And they, who longest live, survive to see

The certainty of death, of life the vanity.

I wonder if you might put a note in your columns in the hope that a reader might be able to give me a correct inscription together with the right name, date, location and other pertinent information.

Sincerely,

Professor of English

PARTITION OF IRELAND

Editor of The Townsman:

The article in your "Views of the News" column about the partition of Ireland is not carefully accurate. It makes the partition originate from the attitude of "Ulster, the block of six northern Protestant counties."

I do not know how important it is that the name Ulster then meant, and always had meant, nine counties, and has never officially meant anything else, tho popularly the present six-county body is nicknamed Ulster.

What is more important is that Northern Ireland is not, and never was, a block of six Protestant counties. County Fermanagh has a Catholic majority, and I think it is the only one. There never has been a chance given for each county to vote whether it wished to be a part of Northern Ireland or of the Republic of Eire. Such a chance ought to be given.

Of course all the reports about secret motives of any politicians anywhere are more or less uncertain. But it was said that the Northern Irish politicians who engineered the split did not want to include the whole of Ulster (the nine counties) for fear it would give a total majority against separation, and they did not want to confine the separated area to the counties with an actual Protestant majority for fear the people would agree with each other so well that they might turn their bosses out of power.

So they drew the boundaries to take in the six counties in order that they might have a total majority against union with Eire, but might have a population inharmonious enough so that it could not get together on any other set of leaders. I do not know what they have ever done to disprove that gossip.

My neighbors know that I am a Protestant. But I am in favor of letting the people of each area (including County Fermanagh) choose for themselves what government they will be under.

Attend Convention Of Women Voters

Mrs. Harold Rafton and Mrs. Dudley Fitts were delegates from Andover to the national convention of the League of Women Voters at Atlantic City last week.

The convention decided upon three projects for the league in the coming two years. These were the expansion of world trade, the federal budget, and the improved administration of natural resources.

The outstanding speaker of the convention was Paul Hoffman, administrator of Marshall Plan aid. He was emphatic that Europe must be allowed to earn more dollars in this country to buy the wheat, cotton, and machinery that it needs from us. He said that freer world trade will produce a higher standard of living for the west, which is a major aim of our strategy in the cold war we are fighting.

Special Assembly

In a combined assembly presented Monday, members of the ninth grade and senior high welcomed the Bishop-Lee Theatre players of Boston. They enacted their version of the comedy "Happy Journey" which was thoroughly enjoyed. Also on the program were a series of short selections, some of light comedy, while others such as "St. Joan" were more inspiring, serious scenes. Brandon Davey, who was master of ceremonies, is a former graduate of Pynchard and is now a member of the theatre. Mr. Davey favored us with a scene from "Hamlet."

Assembly

Friday's assembly was in charge of room 12 of the seventh grade, and was presented in the form of an old-time minstrel show. Announcer was David Haartz. Carl Ebhardt and Mary Ann Garabedian sang "Old Black Joe" as a duet, and Jacquelyn Doyle and Mary Ann Doherty danced to the "Hopsotch Polka." Alex Gorianski accompanied all acts on the piano. End men Thomas Shepard and Robert Grudzinski added humor to the show which was a fine piece of work on the pupils' part. All remaining members of room 12 made up the chorus.

Honors

Honors for the forth term have been awarded. In the assembly Friday, in which honor cards were presented, Sub-master Benjamin Dimlich stated his pleasure over the fact that though spring is here and most pupils are affected with spring fever, and the school year has almost come to a close, all pupils have continued their hard work.

W. Andover Cow In Final Headline

The peregrinations of West Andover's recalcitrant cow have come to an end. After making her escape last week and making national headlines for eight days while thwarting attempts to capture her, Arthur Tisbet, her owner, had her shot. The $1000 Aberdeen Angus beauty, about to give birth to a calf, was felled by a shot from a 30-30 rifle fired by Charles McKay of the Lawrence Rod and Gun club. It is now being prepared for the Tisbet refrigerator.

PUNCHARD HIGH

By JANET THOMPSON

DRAMA FESTIVAL

Congratulations to the Punchard cast of "The Courting of Marie Jenvrin" which received a rating of "very good" at the New England Drama Festival, held at the University of New Hampshire in Durham, Apr. 28 and 29. Punchard and Everett high, winners of the Massachusetts festival, represented our state at this festival, competing against the two winners of each of the other New England state contests.

The judges rated the twelve plays on the basis of "excellent, very good, good, and participation." Only one school was given a grading of "excellent" and Punchard was one of four to receive a "very good" rating.

Special credit should be given Mervin E. Stevens who did such an excellent job in directing the Punchard cast. Those who took part in the play were: Nancy Adams, Harriet Schofield, Norman Hudgins, Donald Mudgett, William Walsh, William Johnston, Bancroft Fredrickson, Jean Dumont, prompter, and Alston O'Hara, stage manager.

Basketball Award

A letter from Frank C. Grillo, director of the Eastern Massachusetts Basketball tournament, was read in Monday's assembly, commending Charles Dwyer who was named to the All-Star team of the Class "B" division of the tournament. Punchard basketball coach Kenneth McKinery, in behalf of the tournament committee, presented Charlie with a basketball charm in recognition of his outstanding play. Congratulations, Charlie!

A PINCH OF THIS...

A housewife can improvise with a recipe... adding a pinch of this and a pinch of that. But no such leeway is possible in the measuring and mixing of the ingredients that go into prescribed medicine. Quantities must measure exactly with the specifications set down by the physician... with no additions, eliminations, or substitutions. And for that reason, we make all measurements with precision instruments — and double-check each quantity to make accuracy doubly sure.

Former 'Vale Girl Scores Stage Hit

Marcia Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson who lived in Ballardvale about 20 years ago, recently made her debut on Broadway and according to New York critics, made a charming and lovely Wendie in Sir James Barrie's celebrated fantasy "Peter Pan."

Jean Arthur and Boris Karloff are starring in the play which has new music and lyrics by Leonard Bernstein.

Writing in the N. Y. Post, reviewer Richard Watts, Jr., said: "But the most charming performance is contributed by young Marcia Henderson, who is fresh and delightful as Wendy. She and the manipulators of the wires for the flying children, are the triumphs of 'Peter Pan'."

John Chapman in the N. Y. Daily News says: "Marcia Henderson is a sweet Wendy, with a couple of sweet songs."

Brooks Atkinson in the N. Y. Times: "Marcia Henderson's Wendy is all grace and loveliness—the little mother with a girlish sense of enjoyment; and she sings some of Mr. Bernstein's songs with sweetness and delicacy."

Miss Henderson was a mere youngster when the family lived in Ballardvale. Her father, familiarly known as Jack Henderson, will be remembered by many Andover folk as a former employee of Langrock's store when it was in the square. The Hendersons moved to Williamstown where the father for a time was a selectman. Miss Henderson was graduated last year from the American Academy of Dramatic Art at New York City, and had a career as a photographic model before she entered dramatic school. Since completing the latter course she has been engaged in radio and television, appearing in many productions.

Merrimack College

Merrimack college will inaugurate its first annual Junior week with a five-day program of events beginning next Monday, May 8 and continuing through Friday, May 12. General chairman is Stephen R. Doherty of North Andover.

An athletic program consisting of intra-class games has been scheduled for Tuesday beginning at 1 p.m. and continuing to 5 p.m. Highlight of the afternoon's program will be a softball game between the faculty and the juniors.

Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., open house for parents will take place on the campus and in the college buildings. A buffet luncheon will be served and a program of entertainment will be provided by members of the junior class.

A dinner and dance will be held at 6 p.m. Thursday at the Hotel Somerset, Boston.

P.H.S. Sports

Punchard high's track team with 27 points came in second Saturday in the North Shore Invitation meet held at Gloucester. The host team was first with 42 points. There were eight schools participating and the showing of the local team was considered outstanding because of it being the smallest school in the meet. The locals placed in eight events. The boys scoring for the Blue and Gold were: Capt. Joe Ratyna first in the 220 and broad jump; Joe Rayball second in the 40; Louie Fiedler second in the 20; Phid Dantos second in the 80; Monte Peck third in the 120 d. high hurdles; Jack Abercrombie fourth in the high jump; Ray Hathaway fourth in the 100, and the relay team consisting of Ray Collins, Louie Fiedler, Joe Rayball, and Joe Ratyna won the relay.

The local team has a meet with Melrose tomorrow at the Andover playstead at 3 p.m. Saturday they go to Amherst for the Amherst relays.

Baseball

Capt. Jack McCarthy, a regular for the past three years on the H. S. baseball team, seems to be the only reason to account for the local team being in 3rd place in the Suburban league. McCarthy has pitched and hit his team to both of their victories this year. He's been the only consistent hitter on the team.

Coach Walter Roberts' aggregation received a hard jolt this week when it found out that Charlie Dwyer, ace right-hander has left the high school team to play with the Andover A. C. Now Coach Roberts is left with the difficult task of picking his other starter to go along with Capt. McCarthy. It is expected it will either be veteran Russ Thompson or rookie Louie Mirisola.

Ready to serve the guests with the tempting menu that highlighted the annual ladies' night program given by the Men's club of the West parish church are the members of the committee who worked so hard to make the affair a success.
